

An Official Members Only Publication of the Train Mountain Railroad Museum Issue: #54 February 06

One Hundred days and counting! That's right kiddees only 100 days until the first Work Week and Meet of 2006.

I can't begin to tell you how excited we all are about this season at Train Mountain. We've got three regular meets scheduled and of course the Big One, the 2006 Triennial. In addition we have all the 'extra' meets and events that make up our regular schedule at Train Mountain. Let's see, there was the Polar Bear Meet in January, and coming up later this year is the Kitsap Gathering, the 4th of July Big Blast, the Operations Meet, the Halloween Party and the Backshop Christmas Party. Wow what a year this will be. But as I look back up and review this list of events I realize that I've left out one an important point. None of these 'events' mean a thing without you! Imagine the Triennial with only 8 or 10 trains in Main Yard! We need ya! You make the difference in Quentin and Sharon's dream of the ultimate live steam gathering spot. All the track in the world without trains and engineers to run on it means nothing!

In this issue I've included a couple of lists of locations to stay at while on your visit to Train Mountain. These are duplicate lists of the ones Carol maintains on the Train Mountain website but some of you are not on the web therefore I've repeated them here. Thanks to John Wheelock for making the phone calls to update the online information.

If you haven't registered yet for the Triennial remember the longer you wait the more money it will cost for registration.

The Triennial report this month will give you the latest developments and requests for Jerry Crane our fearless leader of the Big One. Please give him all the support you can.

In the last issue I included a picture of the flags now hanging in Central Station. Pop Wood made all the arrangements to gather those flags for display at Train Mountain. He still needs more so if you can supply a full size flag (as close to 3' x 5' as possible) from your state or country please contact him at no1carver@comcast.net or you can reach him through the contact information listed below for the Gazette. I know there are several states he needs, but he is in charge so give him a holler.

We look forward to seeing all of you here sometime this year. If you can make the Triennial, great, if not then please try and make any of the other events scheduled for the year. Have a great season.

Now here are some words of wisdom from your not so wise editor: Remember that the 14th of February is a very special date. If you ever expect to get out of the house this summer – IT'S VALENTINE'S DAY – Ok you've been reminded and warned. If you end up in the dog house it's all your fault!

Linda wants to remind the ladies that are working on the special project for Central Station they can send in their items to Train Mountain attention Linda Wood or send them to the mailing information for the Gazette. You call also bring them to the first meet in 100 days. As usual this year the Chiloquilters ladies will be hosting Ladies Day at Train Mountain on each Thursday of every Work Week. They will also be hosting a Quilt Show in Chiloquin during the weekend of the Triennial. Lots of quilts, vendors, and speakers. Contact Linda for more information on the Quilt Show.

Next is one of those items we hope we never have to display here but it does happen, this is from good friend and Train Mountain member Spencer Noe:

Dear Live Steam friends on January 23, 2006, a white single axle trailer was stolen out of the back of my father's work. The trailer was approximately 15 feet long and had a separate sleeping compartment near the front of the trailer. Inside the trailer was a Roll Models Legend Series D&RGW Davenport Switcher #50, a red D&RGW flatcar (with sides), and a scale 24' long red flatcar. The locomotive and cars were 2.5" scale. Estimated value of the equipment and trailer is $16,000. If anybody happens to find any one of these items for sale somewhere please let us know. We greatly appreciate it. Phone: (408) 718-4603 email: SpencerNoe@aol.com sincerely, Spencer and Chris Noe San Jose, CA

You will find photos of the equipment that was stolen from Spencer and Chris Noe as follows: http://www.TrainMountain.org/StolenEquipment.htm Contact information for Spencer and Chris is also on that page. Thank you for your help on this one!

FROM THE MANAGER The latest information

Happy Valentines Day!

We are enjoying (not) a wonderful white, snowy winter with excessive moisture and lots of ice; I am definitely ready for better weather. We have folks with new equipment chomping at the bit to test run it, but as of right now we could not even unload their equipment. Not very often we get this much snowy and rainy weather; I know we need the moisture, but enough is enough. I am guessing it will be a late start for outdoor work this spring. I am getting anxious to test out the vacuum/chipper that Chuck Partridge provided so we can see what it is capable of doing.

Ron and Jerry are hard at the snowplow manufacturing business out in the backshop, Art and Charlie have made up lots of track gauges, point sets and kick switch parts for the coming season. Peg has been busy helping Carol get rosters and pins ready for mailing. Caroline and Ron have finished up the first in a series of buildings for placement at sidings for fire equipment. These buildings will require a lot of re-saw work on cedar that is very hard on Ron's allergies, so I will need some volunteers that won't cut off their fingers in the saw to help get the wood prepared for them. Richard has been busy with all the snow and regular maintenance stuff, but he has found time to construct a temporary structure that can be moved with the forklift and will be used as the Official Information Booth at events. This building is being built primarily from used materials that were recovered last year, thanks to your efforts dismantling and cleaning up things no longer needed. Also, Dale and Veronica Taylor are building another temporary structure to be used during big meets as a control tower near Central Station. This is being built at their home in Oroville, California, and will arrive in components to be assembled on site. Thanks guys!

As we move to become more self-sufficient, the buildings I mentioned above will be an important part of that process by eliminating the need to purchase tents and awnings every time we have a big event. They will also save time and materials by creating secure storage areas that will protect items used only once every few years, like for the Triennial, and also by recycling more of the items that would be tossed aside otherwise.

My latest wildlife story: many a time over the winter I get to take one of the dozers and plow snow off the road to Steiger Butte to give everyone access to the mountain and the electronic stuff up there. This trip is normally on roads but occasionally done cross-country to save time and avoid obstacles such as drifts and running water, which have occurred this season. As usual, I was whining that I had not seen much wildlife for a spell, when low and behold, on a trip to the Butte with the cat I scared up a small elk herd (8 or 9) and 2 larger herds of deer on the west end of Bill Farmer's place. This was great to see, but at the same time I had hoped to see more elk. Again, as if someone heard me wishing. Sarah came up to me and said "If you want to see some elk they are headed for South Chiloguin Road from the burn pit." So I headed for the truck and away I went. I definitely got my fix of elk viewing - coming over the hill from Hillcrest (the area with the SP Caboose on the south boundary of TM) toward the road was the biggest herd of elk I have ever seen! I counted thirty-seven head but there were more not in clear view before I had to move on so I wouldn't be a traffic statistic. I was overwhelmed by the majesty of those creatures, they are such impressive animals to watch. I hope you will get an opportunity to see them sometime.

Back to business, it sounds like the preparation for the Triennial is going along just fine, vendors are getting spaces reserved and people are reserving rooms already. I understand some local spots are full already during the Triennial time period. Check out Jerry Crane's article for updates. A little bit on safety again; I am sure you have heard or read about safety problems around the country and some of the problems resulting from accidents. I am glad these problems can be overcome and solutions implemented that are both practical and effective. In reading various newsletters and having conversations with other clubs, the solutions become obvious and I think to myself that this is common sense stuff. I know that when we come out to the railroad it is a vacation and vacations are to have fun and relieve the stress of our everyday lives, but we still need to bring common sense along with us. Many times I have heard ideas from folks on how to solve a safety issue and think that it would require only a minimal amount of extra effort for the maximum amount of fun! Our thinking has to be to maximize safety to further promote the fun. We never want to see someone hurt while riding trains, but it can happen and cannot always be prevented; if it can be prevented, we'd better make sure we did all we could to prevent an accident. I look forward to a lot of railroading in our future and we are the only ones that can keep it safe so we will have the opportunity to run trains, when and as we want.

Some of the safety items I have heard about are pretty simple to use like safety meetings, engineer and conductor training programs, equipment checks to assure mechanically safe equipment, and instruction to passengers. The tougher things are modifications to equipment such as safety chains/cables, maintaining the lowest possible center of gravity and preventing fire and burn hazards. We cannot expect the tracks to be perfect, too many gophers and burrowing critters for that, so you must make sure your equipment is in the best and safest condition possible.

Thank you to Sheri Beauchamp for this month's Mountain Tales. We still need to get your funny tales about Train Mountain; I would like to have plenty to keep Mountain Tales going throughout the year.

Talk to you soon:

MOUNTAIN TALES: "To Zap or not to Zap?" Sheri "Texas Billie" Beauchamp

Episode 1:

Most evenings of the summer at Train Mountain, Hugo & Jeanne Meisser, Toni & Lee Brooks, and Texas Bob and Billie (aka Jim and Sheri Beauchamp) would sit around the "fireless" campground after dinner and discuss the day's events. All too often, we were joined by swarms of mosquitoes which would inevitably cause us to cut short our outdoor discussions. While at WalMart, Texas Bob and I saw an electric bug zapper which was supposed to also work on mosquitoes. Excitedly, we bought it and brought it to that night's evening "discussion." Well, the zapper did tend to attract mosquitoes, but it attracted more than it could possibly kill. So, Lee Brooks brought out his "electric fly swatter" and started waving it around through the swarms of mosquitoes. As the swatter made contact with the mosquitoes, you would see a little spark as the insect met his/her doom. Well, Lee got so excited at making sparks, that he actually "sparked" his ear!!! We finally decided that the zapper attracted more mosquitoes than it killed but it sure made for an entertaining evening!!

And Episode 2:

At the end of the August 2005 work week, Texas Bob and I meandered down to the Back Shop. My eye caught sight of Dr. Larry's "Train/Bike." I had been wanting to take that train/bike for a ride, but was a little hesitant to do so. Ross Perrin, Russ Wood, Texas Bob and a few other guys were standing around encouraging me to take it for a spin. Initially they were offering all sorts of encouragement, but their encouragement turned to shouts of horror when I asked if I could pick up the train/bike and turn it around to ride home if I got tired.

We're looking for your humorous memory of Train Mountain! Please send your submissions for The Mountain Tale to Train Mountain, 36941 South Chiloquin Road, Chiloquin, OR 97624 or email to info@TrainMountain.org.

TRIENNIAL VOLUNTEER REPORT Volunteers Needed - Please!

First things first, Chris Stieh has volunteered to be host at six acre campground again this next triennial, thank you Chris.

Last month we talked about all the different volunteer activities you can sign up for daily at the 8 a.m. meeting. Most of these activities require no action on your part before you get to Train Mountain, but one activity requires some upfront action. Here to talk about this activity is Larry Harper.

Shuttle Van Volunteers (6-21-06 thru 7-02-06)

We need 10 volunteers per day to operate 2 shuttle vans around Train Mountain. Vans will run continually between 8 am and 10 pm each day of the Meet. The number of volunteers will determine how many hours each driver will drive. Vans will make stops at Central Station, Blue Caboose and South Meadow campground.

Volunteer drivers must have a valid U.S. driver's license and be required to sign an authorization form to allow Train Mountain's Insurance Agent access to their driving records. The form will be provided when you contact me to volunteer and will be required prior to the meet. Your cooperation in this matter will be greatly appreciated.

All those who wish to volunteer please contact Larry Harper at Iharperinca@yahoo.com

Thank you,

Larry Harper

We have added one more committee for the Triennial called Guys & Dolls. Sharon Breen will be the chairperson of this committee. The members of this committee will be putting out dolls at the various buildings around the track and moving them indoors in the event of rain. If you would like to be a member of this committee, please contact Sharon at Sharon@alwaysonnetwork.net.

Thank you,

Jerry Crane—jerald_maydell_crane@netzero.net
